This clarification is being provided to all known and registered correspondents in response to questions received. All addenda and original RFQu documents are also available online at: www.gtcounty.org, select "Bid Opportunities" from the Quick Links section and "View Current Bid Solicitations."

Response: Offeror shall provide one (1) electronic, reproducible original RFQu submittal in pdf format, clearly labeled with the firm's name and the bid number. The RFQu response must be complete, clear and concise, not to exceed fifty (50) 8½" x 11" pages (may be fewer) and numbered at the bottom right hand corner of the page. The submittal shall use a minimum 12-point Times New Roman font. The submittal shall be concise, well organized and demonstrate an understanding of the Scope of Services. All other pages will apply to the page limitation.

Question #2: Are any specialty methods anticipated within this RFQ period? This may include cement reclamation, full depth reclamation, chip sealing ect.

Response: The responding team should be prepared to provide engineered roadwork solutions to unanticipated situations, which may include any or all of the above mentioned techniques.

Question #3: In the Right of Way acquisition you reference “any required document necessary”, does this include deeds, condemnation documents, or appraisals?

Response: Yes.

Question #4: In the Construction section, you reference “Inspections” does this include testing of materials or just construction observations? Shall these be conducted by an employee of the awarded firm, or a 3rd party?

Response: Inspections references construction observations. Responding firms in the past have typically included a partnered geotechnical firm as part of their RFQu response to provide material testing if required. However, the County also has contracts in place for Geotechnical Engineering and Construction Materials Testing Services, “As Needed”.
