Questions and Answers

We are the manufacturer of Flygt pumps and we have a full service repair shop that has worked with

1. IRC in the past. I would like the opportunity to respond to this RFP, but being the Flygt manufacturer we only service Flygt products. Can we still submit?

Proposals for specific portions of the services needed will be considered, but must clearly indicate such.

2. Is it possible to schedule walkthroughs of all the shops bidding on the contract to evaluate their written responses and see their qualifications in person? A walkthrough has often helped our municipality customers see all the vendors shops in person and helped the government to make the best possible decision in selecting a qualified firm.

The committee will determine if any further investigation is necessary after it develops the initial ranking of firms based on written responses.

3. Regarding the Proposal Pricing, under "Item of Work" line item #2, we do have a crane service truck and operator we provide to our customers at no additional charge. If the reach for the lift or the weight of the machine is over the rated lift for our crane truck a larger crane must be rented. How would you like us to denote this on the price proposal form? Would this be included in the "Cost plus markup %"?

That is acceptable. Please clearly explain any variances to the price proposal form, or special circumstances within the text of your proposal.

4. Please advise if the below Limitation of Liability language to the Indemnification section of General Instructions set forth by Indian River County Purchasing Division is acceptable.

"Limitation of Liability

In no event, will the Proposer be liable for any damages resulting from lost profits, loss of use of equipment or any special, incidental, consequential or indirect damages, regardless of the form of any claim or action, any way arising out of or in connection with this Contract even if the Proposer has been made aware of the possibility of such damages.”

This language is NOT acceptable.
