Waste Water Treatment Plant, Construct Vactor Truck Drying Bed, Demolition of Existing Facilities
Addendum 1
October 30, 2018

The following questions were received:

Can the existing light pole next to the sludge vault be temporarily moved during demolition to avoid damage during that phase of the project?

Response:

An existing light pole is located a few feet south of the proposed drying bed. If required, the Contractor may temporarily remove the light pole during demolition and construction activities, but must replace the light pole to original conditions at the conclusion of construction. The Contractor will be responsible for any damage to the light pole as a result of construction activities.
