Construction Repairs:

- Repair and secure all second floor outside porch rails and balusters along the entire outside perimeter: from its connection to the front wall on the left side all the way to the wall on the right side
- Repair rotted areas of the upper roof soffit on the left side
- Using filler insulation, repair and paint the bases of the four main columns as needed. Columns will be painted with one coat of encapsulate paint as well as one coat of latex

All work related to lead encapsulation and lead work protocol

Work outline for the second floor to be completed first:

- Cover the outside of all front windows on the first and second floors with clear 6 mil plastic which will stay in place while the lead work is being done
- Cover both the first and second floor double doors with plastic overlaps which will allow for access but also to curtail lead chips or dust entering the house
- The second -floor double doors should also have an overlap on the interior of the door as well
- Cover the entire second floor porch roof with 6 mil plastic and attach the edges to the bottom of the railings to prevent lead dust and chips from escaping during remediation
- Construct a wood or PVC frame a minimum of six feet tall and as wide as the porch roof that will be able to contain any and all paint chips that are removed from the second-floor upper roof, soffit and fascia areas. Note: HEPA vacuuming should be utilized extensively on this project
- This PVC or wood frame should be portable enough to contain the lead on all work areas of the second floor: left side, right side, middle area and all other overhead lead work
- Using a 2hp Bulldog or equivalent air compressor with a light to medium PSI (300 to 500) all of the facing areas of the roof, fascia, soffits, ceilings, columns, railings and balusters that have obvious and evident chipping paint will be power sprayed to remove all of the loose lead paint
- VIP: Contractor should have the manpower to not only have a person cleaning with the air compressor but also to have another person vacuuming up all the exposed paint chips as soon as an area or component is completed while using the PVC or wood frame to keep the lead dust and chips in a contained area

- All of the exposed wood or metal areas and components of the second floor will be painted with (1) one coat of lead encapsulate paint and (1) one coat of premium latex paint. ALL AREAS WILL BE PAINTED WHITE WITH BOTH ENCAPSULATE AND LATEX
- VIP Note: The architectural clay “fluting” at the top of all the columns will not be air powered sprayed or power washed. These areas will be covered with plastic and taped to avoid any affects from the air blasting of the painted areas around them. Once all of the air blasting is completed, they will be exposed and carefully painted with encapsulate and latex paint. Care must be given not to damage these areas to any further extent
- Note: Prior to painting all areas of the second floor the floor plastic must be completely cleaned of all lead debris or the original plastic will have to be gathered and disposed of and new plastic will need to be laid

Work outline for the first floor to be completed following the lead work on the second floor:

- 6 mil plastic will be used to cover the entire first floor porch flooring. Using 2 X 4’s to roll the plastic around the lumber, construct the plastic and wood in a way that will force the water from power washing off the sides into the garden beds
- Plastic will need to be laid, positioned and secured six feet out from the front edge of the first-floor porch and the four major columns. This will be necessary to catch any and all lead debris that will come from power air spraying the columns especially on their front facing sides from top to bottom
- All of the siding, columns and housing components will be power washed at a medium PSI to allow for removing loose paint chips and cleaning the first-floor porch vinyl. The contractor should again prepare to vacuum as much water as possible, so all of the lead-tainted water doesn’t flow in the side garden beds. Discharge of water will be discussed at the pre-bid meeting
- The entire outside front facing of the two-floor porch area from the top of the highest roof peak to the ground floor including the four large columns will be painted with (1) one coat of encapsulate paint and (1) coat of premium one-coat latex
- First floor porch floor plastic must all be entirely cleaned of lead chips before painting can proceed using the same plastic or plastic must be gathered, disposed of and new plastic laid
- While the Articulating Lift is on site, per the owner’s permission, all branches growing the closes to the first and second floor porch area should be cut back to allow for more air and sun to prevent further moisture deterioration of the column and facing components

Materials and Equipment that will be included as part of the bid:

- a. One 40-to-50-foot Articulating Gas, Diesel or Electric Boom lift. Include rental cost for 6 consecutive days Monday thru Saturday
- b. Two Air Compressors for using air pressure to remove paint chips. Include rental cost for 5 days maximum for both units
- c. Encapsulate paint – Contractors should take own measurements when estimating amount of paint needed

- d. A premium white latex paint – Contractors should take own measurements when estimating amount of paint needed
- e. PVC parts and pipes to construct an enclosure to be used on the second floor utilizing the 6-mil plastic on site
- f. Large roll of 6 mil plastic, clear if possible
- g. Multiple rolls of heavy painter’s tape for fastening plastic to floors, boards, windows and doors
- h. Lumber to make repairs to pre-listed areas
- i. Contractors should consider providing enough onsite employees to complete the project in (21) twenty-one weekdays or less
