Steps to Grow Bonding Capacity in 2025

Ready to Build Your Bonding Capacity for Federal Contracts?

Join Chris Smith, Senior Surety Bond Broker at Anderson & Catania Surety Services, for an informative session designed to empower contractors, especially DBE companies, to navigate the federal marketplace with confidence. Learn how to strengthen your bonding capacity through strategic financial planning, relationship-building, and effective use of bonding tools, setting the stage for success in federal contracting.

Master Bonding Fundamentals: Gain insight into essential bond types (bid, performance, payment, warranty, and supply) and their critical role in securing and completing federal contracts.

Prepare Financially for Federal Projects: Understand how financial reporting, credit scores, and working capital impact bonding capacity and position your business for federal opportunities.

Forge Strategic Partnerships: Discover the importance of building trust and long-term relationships with surety brokers, bond companies, and federal contracting advisors.

Expand Your Bonding Capacity: Leverage tools like WIP reports, past performance, financial statements, and lines of credit to scale your business and tackle larger federal contracts with confidence.
