SECTION II PURPOSE, BACKGROUND INFORMATION AND SPECIFICATIONS

1. PURPOSE

NMHU is seeking proposals from interested businesses to provide professional services to evaluate, prepare, submit, and follow up on the university's renewal application for the federal Negotiated Indirect Cost Rate Agreement (NICRA) also referred to as Facility and Administrative (F&A) Rate.

2. BACKGROUND INFORMATION

NMHU is a small, public, comprehensive university primarily located in Las Vegas, New Mexico with a Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) designation. The university has held a NICRA for over twenty years. The most recent NICRA application was submitted and approved in 2015 with an extension granted in 2019 which expires in June of 2023. The cognizant agent for the NICRA evaluation is the Department of Health and Human Services Cost Allocation Services (DHHS-CAS). NMHU would like to maintain an independently-evaluated NICRA rate rather than as it has in the past.

SECTION III SCOPE OF WORK

DESIRED SCOPE OF WORK

Overall Project Guidance

- A. Offeror will develop an initial workplan and meet with the NMHU staff to create a mutual workplan that includes deadlines and expectations for which items the NMHU staff will provide and deliverables provided by Offeror.
- B. In order to facilitate communication, Offeror will be available by phone, virtual meeting space, and email, so questions can be addressed as they arise.
- C. Offeror will be available for scheduling conference calls to address several questions or issues at one time.
- D. Offeror will be available to meet on-site, only if necessary.
- E. Offeror will provide regular updates to the workplan and identify any issues that may impact the submission timeline.
- F. Offeror will conduct a detailed review of the FY2014 NICRA Proposal, and will prepare a written assessment which will include strengths and weaknesses in current practices and a list of recommendations to assist in the maximization of the F&A rate calculation while adhering to guidelines.
- G. Offeror will also look for short- and long-term opportunities to maximize the F&A rate.
- H. Offeror can accept information from the university enterprise resource planning system, Banner, in Microsoft Excel or Word formats.
- I. Offer will provide a list of additional information that will be needed outside of the initial data download. For both the detailed data request and additional information, Offeror will provide reasonable time for responses.
- J. Once the F&A rates have been negotiated, Offeror will prepare a Final Report for NMHU, summarizing the project and making recommendations for future NICRA Proposals.

Phase 1: Space Survey and Rate Development

The calculation of F&A rates is a complex process which requires numerous steps and the assessment of various institutional costs and operations (e.g., plant facilities, central administration, etc.). The main objective of the project is to ensure the appropriate and maximum F&A rates are developed and used by NMHU. NMHU accepts that there may be the need for a space survey if there has been a significant change of space and facilities since the previous submission in 2014.

- A. As necessary, Offeror will identify the optimal space survey methodology, assist in identifying the departments to be surveyed, prepare the space survey documentation, provide space survey trainings, meet with departmental staff to complete the space survey, and provide a quality review of the space survey.
- B. As necessary, Offeror will meet with the Departmental Administrators and complete the survey with them (for up to 30 departments). The benefits of relying on a consultant to complete the forms include:

- The space survey can be completed in less than a week
  - Minimal burden is placed on the academic Departmental Administrators
  - Consistency between departments is ensured
  - Departmental Administrators will not have to learn how to operate an online tool
  - NMHU will not have to monitor or collect the space survey data
- C. As necessary, after the space survey is complete, Offeror will conduct a final review of the space survey results utilizing DHHS-CAS's standard approach by reviewing space survey data by measuring the "density" of research salaries and wages compared to research space.
- D. As necessary, Offeror will identify departments with "irregular" data or departments that are anticipated to be reviewed by DHHS-CAS and recommend necessary adjustments to the space data to ensure defensibility and maximized recovery of research space.
- E. Offeror will prepare a workplan that will include:
- a. Exclusions/Allocations
    - i. Review Exclusion Methodology from Previous Calculation
    - ii. Identify Exclusion of Additional Financial Data
    - iii. Review Significant Credits Not Excluded from Calculation
    - iv. Identify and Allocate "Pooled" Expenses
  - b. Service Centers/Specialized Service Facilities
    - i. Identify All Service Centers and Specialized Service Facilities
    - ii. Identify Moveable Assets
  - c. Functional Bases
    - i. Confirm Proper Classification of Costs and Attributes
    - ii. Identify Additional Items to Complete Functional Base(s)
    - iii. Review Award Narratives and Proposals
  - d. Capital and Moveable Assets
    - i. Review Depreciation Computations and Capitalization Policies
    - ii. Identify Allowable Building and Building Improvements
    - iii. Identify Allowable Campus-wide Improvements
    - iv. Identify Allowable Equipment
    - v. Identify Optimal Allocation Methodology
  - e. Capital Interest
    - i. Identify Allowable Interest Expense to Project, Building
    - ii. Identify Optimal Allocation Methodology
  - f. Operation and Maintenance
    - i. Identify Allowable Operation and Maintenance Expenses
    - ii. Identify and Properly Treat Internal Charges, Billing
    - iii. Identify Optimal Allocation Methodology
    - iv. Calculate the Utility Cost Adjustment (UCA)
  - g. General Administration
    - i. Identify Allowable General Admin Expenses
    - ii. Identify and Properly Treat Internal Charges, Billing
    - iii. Identify Optimal Allocation Methodology

- h. Other Items
  - i. Prepare Future Facilities Cost Projection (if applicable)
  - ii. Review and Optimize Calculation of F&A Rate
  - iii. Create Submission Package
  - iv. Provide Post-submission Support (Respond to Questions, Requests for Additional Information)
  - v. Negotiate F&A Rate Agreement

Phase 2: Calculation of Final F&A Rates and Final Submission Package

- A. Offeror will conclude the data analysis and review of the research base, the review of the allocation methodologies and the review of the cost pools and corresponding allocations for those cost pools.
- B. Offeror will also identify potential opportunities and/or gaps that need to be addressed in the F&A Cost Rate Proposal to DHHS-CAS.
- C. Offeror will have a staff member not involved in the building of the F&A model review a draft of the F&A Cost Rate Proposal and will prepare the required documents (reports and narratives) for the submission package.
- D. Offeror will be available to review the full F&A Proposal in detail with NMHU personnel by November 15, 2022. After NMHU completes their review, and all necessary changes are made, Offeror is available to present a summary of the F&A Cost Rate Proposal to Senior Management, as necessary.

NMHU recognizes that the university's Audited Financial Statements and the Single Audit Report are required to be included in the submission package so any delays in the publication of these reports can result in a delay of the submission or will need to be submitted separately when available.

Phase 3: Negotiation with DHHS-CAS (post-package submission)

The time frame for NICRA negotiation is unknown, however, for the sake of this Scope of Work, the timeline of January 2023 to December 2023 is estimated based on possible backlog and delays at DHHS-CAS.

Offeror may only estimate when the discussions with DHHS Cost Allocation Services will start regarding the rate agreement, but will closely monitor the backlog and response time of the assigned Federal negotiator after submission. The institution will be provided with regular updates and best estimate as to when this phase will commence.
