General comments regarding the bid and/or plans and specifications:

Scope of Services

1. INTRODUCTION

This project includes the design and engineering plans for the ecological enhancement of the three main islands on the Lost Tree Island Conservation Area (LTICA). As shown on the Location Map (Attachment 1), the 508-acre site is located in the Central Indian River Lagoon (IRL), in Indian River County. The islands are approximately 0.75 miles north of the SR 60 boat launch on the barrier island. The three main islands within the LTICA include Joe Earman Island (68.6 acres), Duck Head Island (60.4 acres), and Hog's Head Island (48.4 acres).

Three prior mitigation projects were completed within the LTICA, including two projects on the northern portion of Duckhead Island totaling approximately 12.5 acres, and one 7.5 acre mitigation project on the northern portion of Joe Earman Island. Permitting information describing these projects is included in the following data sources: St. John's River Water Management District permits 91538-1 and 91538-4; FDEP permit # 31-256136-001.

The enhancement of the LTICA is planned to be a multi-year effort. Construction will occur in a systematic approach based on a prioritization of resource needs and funding opportunities. Objectives for the project include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Strategic design that allows for prioritized and phased implementation
- Site design that is resilient and versatile
- Establishment of an integrated plan for upland, wetland and transitional habitats
- Water quality benefits through establishment of expanded wetland communities
- Cost effectiveness for construction phases and long-term operation & maintenance
- Cost effective strategies for maximizing and maintaining biodiversity
- Elimination of nuisance and exotic plant species such as Australian pine and Brazilian pepper
- Inclusion of passive recreational and educational components

The selected firm will work with County biologists and other County staff (as applicable) to develop a conceptual habitat enhancement plan for use in regulatory and potential stakeholder engagement meetings. This plan will present a formative strategy for the eventual development of the engineered project plans, and will be used to collaborate with various entities with experience in similar ecological restoration and enhancement projects. The conceptual plan will also be used to evaluate permitting criteria, construction methods and costs, potential monitoring and maintenance costs and logistics, and the compatibility of the plan with other long-range Indian River Lagoon planning efforts.

Based on project objectives listed above, and feedback received on the conceptual plan, the selected firm will work with County staff to design and engineer the LTICA construction plans. Major elements of the design and engineering process may include, but not be limited to:

1. Collection of baseline data including topography, bathymetry, and vegetative cover: Topography to include sufficient spot elevations to complete the required grading plan. Bathymetric data collection should extend from the Mean High Water (MHW) elevation on each island, and sufficient for any required dock permitting, as well as potential re-contouring of shorelines to enhance shorebird habitat. Data collection for baseline vegetation will involve providing survey support to accompany County biologists identifying density and cover of exotics and native vegetation proposed to be preserved.

2. Preparation of mobilization/demobilization, clean-up and staging plans
3. Plans depicting exotic species removal and site clearing strategies (phasing, methods and disposal)
4. Site layout and grading plans (including soil balance assessment)
5. Hydrologic analysis in support of created wetlands
6. Geotechnical analysis in support of created wetlands as well as any proposed recreational elements (i.e. boardwalks, docks)
7. Plans depicting erosion control measures
8. Proposed planting strategies: County staff will develop the community composition and corresponding planting tables for the various created habitats. The Engineer will be responsible for generating plan and cross sectional views representing planting zones, as well as including all planting lists and specifications on the project plans.
9. Design of proposed recreational and educational elements (trails, boardwalks, docks, signage, etc.).
10. Plans and specifications describing construction phasing & associated cost estimates per phase.
11. Production of detailed, construction-ready plans sufficient for submittal of required environmental permits for construction.
12. Production of detailed construction notes and specifications for all elements of the project.
13. Attendance and participation at stakeholder and other public meetings.

It is strongly recommended that interested firms complete a site review prior to submitting a statement of qualifications. The design and engineering of the LTICA enhancement plans must be completed by September 30, 2020.
