Experience with Programs Similar in Size. At Kimley-Horn, we pride ourselves on being a successful local government consultant focusing on contracts such as Okaloosa County's RFQ PW 81-23. We have conscientiously served local government clients for decades and look to extend our general engineering local government service for many years to come. For example, in Northwest Florida, we are currently serving, or have served as a consultant in the past, for Okaloosa, Walton, Bay, Escambia, Leon, Gadsen, and Wakulla counties. All of these counties, and many other local governments in Northwest Florida, have been served with our quality deliverables within the schedule and budgets assigned to each project. TRAFFIC SAFETY

Watersound Parkway/County Road 30A Intersection Improvement Project Phases I and II

Seacrest, FL

Watersound Parkway at CR 30A has recently been reconstructed to align with Sand Cliffs Drive to the south and is currently a four-way stop-controlled condition. The County intends to implement a signalized intersection at this location to operate with the realignment. During Phase I of the project, Kimley-Horn performed a signal warrant analysis for the intersection, which concluded that a traffic signal is warranted based on existing traffic volumes. Operational analyses were also performed for the intersection, which concluded that an exclusive southbound right-turn lane should be added at the intersection. Additionally, the County has requested the addition of a slip lane from westbound CR 30A to northbound Watersound Parkway to accommodate larger vehicles making a westbound right-turn movement at the intersection. Kimley-Horn will be providing design, permitting services, and bidding assistance for signalization and operational improvements during Phase II. Phase I included traffic analyses and Phase II includes roadway design. Traffic analyses will be required for intersection improvements at Nellie Drive and Chat Holley Road and at the new roadway U.S. 98 as part of the Old Town of Santa Rosa Regional Stormwater Management Facility and Event Venue project. This project was completed under the previous continuing services contract with Walton County. Our team feels that this project is a great representation of a typical traffic and intersection improvements project that would fall under this contract.

Plans and Specification Compliance. Kimley-Horn is well qualified to provide any level of construction phase administration services for Okaloosa County. We take pride in designing “buildable” plans, and our knowledge of construction issues and costs is demonstrated by the firm’s outstanding record of on-time and on-budget completions. We provide construction phase services on the majority of our development projects, including: cost estimating and pre-bid services, providing a full- or part-time construction observation representative, reviewing monthly pay estimates, evaluating equipment delivered compared to shop drawings, coordinating punch list observations, and coordinating materials testing.

Our experience can be used to review plans and specifications to identify constructability issues early on in the process. Then, affordable adjustments can be made to maintain steady progress and avoid stop-work situations. The key to successful Construction, Engineering, and Inspection (CEI) services is having the right people in the field that are knowledgeable in the work being performed. It is not only important for them to know how and why specific improvements are built and any variations in methods of construction, but they must form a trusting relationship with the contractor as the County’s agent. This is critical to help ensure there is one team in the field with a unified purpose of completing the job at hand. Accurate and consistent record keeping and regular communication with County staff will help ensure you know the project is on schedule and that the County is getting the expected results.

Availability of Adequate Personnel. One of the benefits Kimley-Horn offers is our diversified resources and ability to draw from those resources at any time. Your project manager, Jeff Brittain, P.E., is empowered to call upon any resources you may need, and can assure you that, if required, additional technical expertise is only a phone call away. With more than 1,500 staff across Florida alone, we have the necessary professional personnel available and ready to perform any task under this contract.

Capacity to Perform Future Work. Kimley-Horn is very progressive when it comes to understanding our current workload and our capacity to take on additional work without impacting our availability to clients. We know the importance of meeting our clients’ deadlines and we take the necessary steps so we can confidently commit to meeting yours. Our proactive management process helps to ensure the availability of firm-wide and Florida-based resources for project staffing requirements through a proprietary program maintained on our computer network called “castaheads.” The castaheads process makes sure that sufficient staff and hours are available to meet project schedules and helps ensure that we are able to perform future work.

Technical Education and Training

Kimley-Horn’s culture emphasizes providing an environment for our employees to flourish—this includes offering a vast array of resources to assist in furthering career development. In addition to training videos and software training, Kimley-Horn has developed full discipline-specific technical training programs ranging from Land Development, Roadway, TPTO/Transportation, and Water Utilities. Our firm culture also prioritizes the development and fostering of leaders with strong client and people management skills; most notably, we have developed non-technical training programs centered around Kimley-Horn’s core values and management practices. These programs are structured for all levels of Kimley-Horn staff, from our entry-level employees to senior staff, and consist of multiple full-day educational sessions based on topics such as the Fundamentals of Consulting, Firm Culture and Philosophy, Developing Others, Professional Liability, and Pricing and Negotiations.

In addition to these programs, Kimley-Horn offers financial assistance for further education in the form of tuition reimbursement, as well as reimbursement for technical certification training courses and exams, such as the P.E. license, or professional organization memberships. Investing in our employees is of the utmost importance and crucial to the firm’s lasting success.

One Production Center Mentality

Kimley-Horn’s structure is based on a one production center mentality. This allows us to efficiently utilize resources between offices and allocate resources as required without impacting schedules and clients. This enhanced collaboration and sharing of experience leads to increased productivity, accurate program development through peer review, enhanced creativity, and higher-quality deliverables. Most importantly, there is team continuity and inherent back-up of all key personnel.

Experience on Projects

Kimley-Horn provides services for a wide variety of public and private clients throughout Florida and the United States. Throughout our 56-year history, we have served numerous local governments in Florida and are proud of the role we place in shaping the development of the Sunshine State's communities. A hallmark of our services to clients is our ability to provide a full range of services for a multitude of project types. Our multidisciplinary team can take your projects from inception to implementation—all while keeping your initial project goals at the forefront of each step of the process.

Ability to Provide Multidisciplinary Services for General Consulting Services

General consulting services contracts require a different approach from typical project-specific contracts. Each task assigned under this type of contract will require an individualized approach that includes the various disciplines necessary to complete the assignment. At Kimley-Horn, the overall approach for a task begins with an initial scoping meeting, the development of a fee proposal, and a clear understanding of expectations and deliverables. Upon notice to proceed, we can draw from a multitude of disciplines and resources to identify the appropriate staff to complete each assignment—whether the task is relatively minor, requiring only a few people in a single discipline, or a complicated task requiring numerous people and multiple disciplines.

Kimley-Horn has a distinguished history of being a successful consultant to local government clients, including the cities of Fort Walton Beach, Crestview, and Mary Esther, as well as Bay, Wakulla and Walton counties. Our success is due to a combination of effective project management, strong technical expertise, and a steadfast quality control (QC) program.

Availability of Adequate Personnel, Equipment and Facilities

As a firm, we are accustomed to managing multiple projects that are in different stages of development. Our project managers use a process call “castaheads” to forecast workload over a six-month period that identifies work overloads and/or shortfalls for each office and discipline. Every Kimley-Horn project is included in this weekly process to make sure projects are staying on track. We are also able to shift resources from one office to another. Unlike many large firms which must conduct an internal business transaction to shift resources, Kimley-Horn operates as one profit center. Our business practices are focused on the needs of our clients. This approach benefits you by making it easy for us to bring in the best expertise available in the firm directly to work on your projects as necessary or to bring in extra help to meet a tight deadline.

Availability of Equipment and Facilities

Kimley-Horn will be performing all services for Okaloosa County from our well-staffed Panama City Beach office, located at 120 Richard Jackson Blvd #230, Panama City Beach, FL 32407. While most of our key staff and subconsultants are based in Panama City Beach, our project team includes some professionals that are normally in other Florida locations. All team members and will be readily available as needed in the County.

Experience and Expertise in Design and Modeling Software

Kimley-Horn has the staff resources and modeling tools necessary for the successful completion of this project. Below is in-depth information regarding our design and modeling software capabilities.

Stormwater Modeling

What separates Kimley-Horn from other engineering firms is our specialized experience in the application of flood control and stormwater management and the number of staff trained in these fields. Our technical expertise in flood control and stormwater management spans a range from watershed hydrology and floodplain hydraulics to sediment transport, to bridge scour and two-dimensional flow. Our knowledge of hydraulic standard approaches, methods, procedures, and FEMA floodplain study requirements provides an exceptional combination of floodplain management, floodplain modeling, and hydraulic expertise to our clients.

Kimley-Horn's extensive library of stormwater modeling software includes:

- ADICPR
- Aquiferwin 32
- CulvertMaster
- FlowMaster
- Groundwater Vistas
- ICPR
- HEC-1
- HEC-2
- HEC-HMS
- HEC-RAS
- HY-8
- Hydraflow
- HydroCAD
- MOC
- MODFLOW
- MODPATH
- MODRET
- PondPack
- QuickFlow
- SWMM
- RT3D
- WinTrans
- xpSWMM

Our engineers and scientists can expertly build and calibrate a model to help you:

- Determine normal and peak system demands
- Plan for stormwater management in normal and emergency situations
- Optimize system operations to minimize capital expenditures

AutoCAD and Geographic Information Systems (GIS)

The Kimley-Horn team uses several computer-aided design software packages to meet the need of our clients including AutoCAD, Civil 3D, ArcGIS, and ArcServer. We complete our project deliverables using the applicable software and supply both electronic and hard-copy products to our clients on a routine basis. We provide an extensive variety of stormwater engineering for projects ranging from small stormwater management facility databases to large-scale designs, and full-service infrastructure assessments complete with GPS location and asset management. Our team also has strong project management skills developed from the successful administration of numerous general consulting services contracts including the cities of Fort Walton Beach, Crestview, and Mary Ester, and the counties of Bay, Walton, and Wakulla.

3D Modeling, Conflict Analysis, and Visualization

Kimley-Horn uses AutoCAD Civil 3D software for site and infrastructure design and modeling. Civil 3D models existing topography, proposed grading, and sanitary sewer and storm drainage piping. This allows us to accurately determine earthwork quantities and analyze potential pipe conflicts before they are realized during construction.

Kimley-Horn uses SketchUp in all phases of a project, as both a graphic and design tool. Google SketchUp is a 3D modeling software that quickly brings 2D designs to life. It is used to graphically communicate our ideas and designs to our clients in an attractive and compelling way. We have helped countless disciplines across multiple industries to communicate and refine their ideas and designs. Our staff's goal is to raise the bar with our 3D visualization services and become a leader in providing these services for our partners and clients.

3D visualization, including before-and-after streetscape improvement concepts, is a must during the public involvement and consensus-building phases of any project. The best way to put it is a picture is worth a thousand words. Not only is a 3D representation a great way to get people excited about a project, but it is also an innovative way to solve potential design conflicts throughout the life cycle of the project.

PROPOSED PROJECT EXECUTION STRATEGY

General Engineering and Professional Services for Okaloosa County Public Works

Okaloosa County

4. PROPOSED PROJECT EXECUTION STRATEGY

Kimley-Horn understands that Okaloosa County is seeking a consultant to deliver a wide range of services on its projects. While the nuances of each project will vary, Kimley-Horn's standard approach will apply to all projects that may arise as part of this contract. Kimley-Horn uses a project management system that benefits our clients and keeps our efforts focused on client service and company objectives. Clients expect consultants to be able to manage projects effectively and expeditiously so our project managers attend focused, ongoing, internal training sessions to improve their project management skills and to identify ways of more efficiently serving our clients.

Project managers use our internal management information system (MIS) to monitor the progress of projects on a bi-weekly basis; the MIS includes automated budget tracking to allow firmer fiscal control over all tasks, and it helps busy project managers maintain control of schedule, budget, and expenses. Each project's work plan and specific details are entered into the MIS, including expenses and labor; the system can then provide an up-to-date status report on each project twice a month. This monitoring capability helps project managers evaluate a project's workload requirements and develop effort estimates for each member of the team (and our entire firm).

We document a six-month workload forecast for all technical and professional staff members, which allows us to be sure that resources and workload balance at all times. This task is so important that Kimley-Horn employs five people whose efforts are 100% dedicated to making sure that the delicate balance between people and projects is maintained. Another company wide practice that benefits each project is our Continuous Quality Improvement (CQI) program; project managers and staff members are rewarded for accomplishing tasks that help improve client service—which might entail anything from creating a project distribution list or other incremental tasks to updating a major technical manual.

As mentioned above, we recognize that each project is different and requires individualized attention, but our basic plan for managing projects provides a general structure that has demonstrated repeated success and that we can tailor to the needs of each project.

Standard Approach to Select Projects

Constructing the selected design in an efficient and timely matter, consistent with public expectations, is the last stage of successful project implementation. Excellent final design, accurate bid documents, and management of construction are important factors for a successful, cost-effective project. Continued effective project performance is based on sustainable design. Projects must be designed with the users in mind. Our ability to focus on providing access to County residents and business owners to their property during the construction of the improvements is an important consideration.

The following typical project sequence demonstrates how these key components will be incorporated into our project management approach for the County. We have developed a sample design project sequence that illustrates critical tasks and milestones. In general, there are three phases to successfully complete any project assigned under this contract in a timely fashion with a focus on cost control: Preliminary Design, Final Design Phase, and Construction Phase.

General Engineering and Professional Services for Okaloosa County Public Works

Okaloosa County

1. Preliminary Design

It is during this phase that the problem is clearly defined, improvement objectives are set, and a feasible solution is developed. Our team will collect the data necessary to analyze the situation. An analysis will then be performed, and alternatives evaluated. Evaluation will include comparison of the degree to which each alternative meets the objective, cost analysis, permitability, and constructability.

Initial discussions with permitting agencies are critical at this time. The public can also be informed of the proposed project and the preferred solution. Cost implications and potential funding must also be considered during this phase. Scheduling milestone reviews with County staff will be one means by which the Kimley-Horn team will track and monitor project progress.

Milestones in the Preliminary Design Phase include:

- A kick-off meeting to set project objectives, scope, schedule, and team communication
 - A detailed project work plan will be developed for each assignment. This will be provided in the form of a formal and detailed scope of services with a description of tasks, assigned staff, deliverables, schedule milestones, internal quality reviews, client meetings, presentations, external client reviews, and deliverables. This will be coordinated with and accompanied by a task and staff-based level of effort (by hours) fee estimate, and a task plan. The combined work plan will be reviewed with Okaloosa County to assure complete understanding of the services, budget, schedule, and deliverables prior to authorization to proceed.
- A review of analytical results for the existing conditions to help ensure clear understanding of the problem and to begin developing alternatives
- When appropriate, a public meeting can be scheduled to present the results of the analysis, the alternative solutions, funding opportunities, and to obtain input

2. Final Design Phase

At this point, a preferred design has been selected. The Kimley-Horn team will prepare complete construction documents suitable for competitive bidding. Kimley-Horn has assisted the County in developing contract documents on numerous successful projects. Probable construction costs will be updated as the project details are developed. Pre-application meetings will be held with review agencies and permit applications will be prepared and submitted.

Access plans for adjacent properties and maintenance of traffic issues will be considered. If available, applications for grants can be submitted again, this time for the construction phase.

Milestones during the Final Design Phase include:

- A kickoff meeting to authorize the start of final design, confirmation of project scope, objectives, and schedule
- Design reviews at completion of 30%, 60%, and 90% plans
- A public meeting to present the project design, updates, schedule, and funding plan
- Permit applications

3. Construction Phase

The final step will be to build the project. Kimley-Horn will provide bidding services and will administer the construction contract. Using us to provide resident project services during construction has helped protect the County against defects in materials or workmanship in the construction. Kimley-Horn understands what Okaloosa County requires to successfully close-out projects to resident satisfaction.

Milestones during this phase include:

- Advertisement of the construction project
- Notice to proceed with construction
- Contract administration
- On-site observation
- Certification that construction is complete and in compliance with the plans and specifications

Anticipating Problems and Approaching Solutions

On-call contracts require a different approach from typical project-specific contracts. For the projects anticipated to develop from this contract, the County project manager's approach will be specific based on the necessary disciplines required to complete the assignment effectively. At Kimley-Horn, we understand that responsiveness is of the utmost importance. Kimley-Horn recognizes that strong project management techniques are necessary to successfully complete all the County's projects. Our standard management practices are outlined in a formal manual published by the firm entitled, Project Manager's Manual. This document clearly establishes the firm's policy, which requires the project manager to prepare a detailed work plan and management plan for each project, no matter the scale or complexity of the project. This includes a plan for controlling and directing all elements of the project, including schedule and budget.

Controlling Construction Costs

We use several techniques in controlling construction costs on improvement projects. The most significant techniques include:

Value Engineering Design

- During the design of critical project features, we will assess the cost of various options and make recommendations to the County as to the most cost-effective option available
- We will continuously scrutinize the proposed design during the process and, in particular, during our QA/QC reviews, to identify cost savings opportunities that should be considered during design
- In many instances, communication with the County is another effective approach to controlling construction costs
 - County staff has significant practical experience regarding what works well in the County, and by establishing a strong partnership we can more closely work together to address construction cost escalation

Construction Cost Estimating

- We will closely monitor construction costs at each phase submittal and anytime significant changes occur to the project that may influence overall construction cost
- We will prepare a detailed opinion of probable construction cost (OPC), typically at each milestone submittal, and will utilize recently bid projects to determine the unit prices for individual pay items
- Unit prices will be individually evaluated based on the magnitude of work to help ensure that construction costs take changing costs into consideration
- We will update construction unit prices at each phase submittal
- Communicate instantaneously with County staff regarding cost escalation once we are aware of them

The Kimley-Horn team members on the organizational chart possess the necessary experience and local familiarity; they know your standards, preferences, and how best to deliver projects under this contract to your exact specifications.

Communication with County Staff

Responsiveness is of the utmost importance, especially when providing on-call services and a variety of parallel assignments. Effective communication begins with listening to the County's ideas about, concerns regarding, and goals for each project. Communication occurs in all forms: face-to-face meetings, telephone, email, and written. Our team members all adhere to the same principles—communicate frequently, keep involved/responsible team members in the loop and, most importantly, keep the County informed and involved.

Making certain that quality and that our team and your staff are on the same page throughout the course of projects will help avoid or mitigate potential problems or issues that might arise. To do this, we will:

- Keep you informed through progress meetings and progress reports
- Provide you with regular conference calls to keep you abreast of critical issues as they arise and assure your continued input throughout the process
- Encourage ongoing electronic communications among all members of the project team
- This will grant team members convenient and fast access to information and serve as a tool to keep everyone up to speed with the progress of the project

General Engineering and Professional Services for Okaloosa County Public Works

Okaloosa County

When task work is underway, all team members can communicate with the County and within the team to work efficiently, keeping the project manager and County project manager in the loop. Our standard practice is to respond within 24 hours, even if the response is to say we do not have an answer or document yet, but to establish a time when it will be ready. We have demonstrated over the past 56 years that if the matter is urgent, we respond immediately and in person if it is appropriate.

Subconsultant Management

Our team includes subconsultants that act as seamless team members able to provide their specific areas of expertise when required. Our project manager, Jeff Brittain, P.E., will be your primary point of contact. He will coordinate all team members' efforts and deliverables, including those of our subconsultants. Before a project starts, he will conduct a project scoping meeting with all respective team members to brainstorm the project issues and help ensure that their experience matches the requirements of the project scope. Our team will also conduct a project initiation meeting with the appropriate team members to coordinate the project plan including milestones, deliverables, and current project events. Project coordination meetings will be scheduled depending upon the project duration to make sure the project remains on track with the project plan. Kimley-Horn will review work performed by subconsultants as part of our Quality Control standards.

Quality Assurance/Quality Control (QA/QC)

Quality is a keystone principle of Kimley-Horn. It is one of the key attributes that has enabled us to become one of the leading consulting firms in the nation and is essential to our continuing success.

Jeff Brittain, P.E. will lead the day-to-day production efforts and be responsible for helping to ensure all production efforts are completed with an appropriate QA/QC process. Our formal QA/QC program is based upon assigning experienced senior professionals, who are otherwise qualified to manage a particular project, to serve in an independent quality control role. Our proposed QA/QC managers, George Roland, P.E., Chuck Starling, P.E., Seth Schmid, P.E., and Troy Landry, PLA, LEED AP BD+C will use their extensive experience to ensure we deliver the very high quality of service that is expected from Kimley-Horn.

A QA/QC review of project solutions and analysis, together with design reviews, will help ensure top quality deliverables for the County. The ultimate goal of each of the seven identified projects is to provide a safe and satisfactory outcome for the citizens of Okaloosa County.

- Kimley-Horn's QA/QC program is constantly evolving and improving, but prioritizes the following key philosophies:
 - Quality is achieved by adequate planning and coordination, understanding the scope of services, and the use of appropriately skilled personnel
 - Quality is assured through the careful checking, reviewing, and surveying of work activities by individuals who are not directly responsible for the initial efforts
 - Quality is controlled by assigning a manager to evaluate all work and procedures followed while providing the services
 - Quality is verified through independent reviews by a qualified staff member of the processes, procedures, documentation, supervision, technical direction, and staffing associated with the project development
 - Quality work is the "built in," not added on

SCHEDULE AND BUDGET

General Engineering and Professional Services for Okaloosa County Public Works

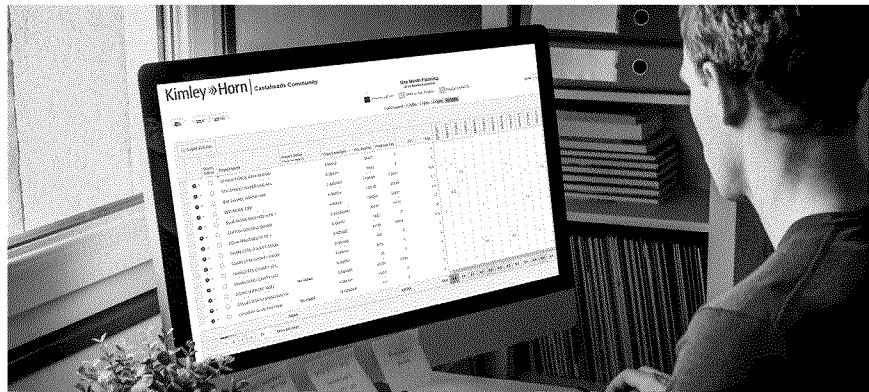

Okaloosa County

5. SCHEDULE AND BUDGET

Kimley-Horn has a track record of successfully completing projects on or ahead of schedule and within budget. This success is due, in part, to each project's schedule and budget being aggressively communicated to the project team by the project manager. Kimley-Horn takes pride in evaluating any unanticipated obstacles and making informed recommendations to overcome them before they impact the project's schedule and budget.

In addition to our proactive communication, Kimley-Horn uses a "work plan" tool for organizing individual project tasks by phase and discipline. The anticipated labor effort is then summarized in a matrix that forms the basis for establishing and tracking the project budget. We track the budget on a percent-complete basis to measure performance during each accounting report period. Project budget status reports are accessible via our intranet.

The work plan also is the tool for establishing staffing for each project and identifying the anticipated labor requirements of each phase. The work plan is reviewed frequently throughout the project and is used in conjunction with our in-house "cast-ahead" process to forecast project workloads. This program requires project managers to forecast, on a weekly basis, their staffing needs for the ensuing week. This "castaheads" process is followed by a weekly conference call among company resource managers to identify who is overloaded and who needs work. Resources are reallocated on a weekly basis as needed to meet client schedules.

A similar process is conducted monthly as project managers forecast their resource needs during the next six months. This information is used to assess hiring needs. Conducted throughout the entire 1,500-person Florida region, these extra efforts are performed to make sure our project managers have the resources they need to meet our clients' needs.

RESPONSE DOCUMENT #8: SYSTEM FOR AWARD MANAGEMENT (OCT 2016)

(a) Definitions. As used in this provision.

“Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) indicator” means a four-character suffix to the unique entity identifier. The suffix is assigned at the discretion of the commercial, nonprofit, or Government entity to establish additional System for Award Management records for identifying alternative EFT accounts (see subpart 32.11) for the same entity.

“Registered in the System for Award Management (SAM) database” means that.

(1) The Offeror has entered all mandatory information, including the unique entity identifier and the EFT indicator, if applicable, the Commercial and Government Entity (CAGE) code, as well as data required by the Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act of 2006 (see subpart 4.14) into the SAM database;

(2) The offeror has completed the Core, Assertions, and Representations and Certifications, and Points of Contact sections of the registration in the SAM database;

(3) The Government has validated all mandatory data fields, to include validation of the Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). The offeror will be required to provide consent for TIN validation to the Government as a part of the SAM registration process; and

(4) The Government has marked the record “Active”.

“Unique entity identifier” means a number or other identifier used to identify a specific commercial, nonprofit, or Government entity. See www.sam.gov for the designated entity for establishing unique entity identifiers.

(b)(1) By submission of an offer, the offeror acknowledges the requirement that a prospective awardee shall be registered in the SAM database prior to award, during performance, and through final payment of any contract, basic agreement, basic ordering agreement, or blanket purchasing agreement resulting from this solicitation.

(2) The Offeror shall enter, in the block with its name and address on the cover page of its offer, the annotation “Unique Entity Identifier” followed by the unique entity identifier that identifies the Offeror’s name and address exactly as stated in the offer. The Offeror also shall enter its EFT indicator, if applicable. The unique entity identifier will be used by the Contracting Officer to verify that the Offeror is registered in the SAM database.

(c) If the Offeror does not have a unique entity identifier, it should contact the entity designated at www.sam.gov for establishment of the unique entity identifier directly to obtain one. The Offeror should be prepared to provide the following information:

(1) Company legal business name.

(2) Tradestyle, doing business, or other name by which your entity is commonly recognized.

(3) Company Physical Street Address, City, State, and Zip Code.

(4) Company Mailing Address, City, State and Zip Code (if separate from physical).

(5) Company telephone number.

(6) Date the company was started.

(7) Number of employees at your location.

(8) Chief executive officer/key manager.

(9) Line of business (industry).

(10) Company Headquarters name and address (reporting relationship within your entity).

(d) If the Offeror does not become registered in the SAM database in the time prescribed by the Contracting Officer, the Contracting Officer will proceed to award to the next otherwise successful registered Offeror.
